MSC IN DIGITAL MARKETING & ANALYTICS

The MSc Digital Marketing and Analytics is the standard-setter in bringing analytical understanding to digital marketing. It is designed for marketing professionals who are seeking to develop in-depth knowledge of the disciplines of digital marketing and data analytics, and to future-proof their careers through mastery of the techniques of developing marketing strategies that place digital at their core.

This masters programme is delivered by leading marketing academics and digital marketing practitioners, working closely together to ensure an effective blend of theory and practice. A combination of interactive lectures, webinars and skills-based workshops will expose participants to proven strategic frameworks and readily applicable toolkits. While participants will apply their learning throughout the programme, a company-based group project in the final semester provides an opportunity to develop and execute an end-to-end Digital Marketing Strategy.

Delivered over 16 months, it is designed for busy marketing professionals.
